PLEASED MANY IN OLD WORLD

Did Lecturer Who is Coming Sunday to Speak on Christian Science.

MANY OUT-OF-TOWN PEOPLE

Will Come to Rushville Sunday to Hear Clarence C. Eaton—First Lecture in Indiana.

Several hundred out-of-town Christian Scientists will come to Rushville next Sunday to attend the lecture on science by Clarence C. Eaton of Tacoma, Wash., who will speak at the Grand theater at three o'clock in the afternoon. As Mr. Eaton is prominent in the work and has never been heard in Indiana before, Christian Scientists from Indianapolis, Shelbyville, Connersville, Greensburg, Anderson and many other points will take advantage of this opportunity to hear this talented speaker.

Judge Will M. Sparks will preside at this meeting. The local scientists are very anxious for the public to understand that the motive of such lectures is not to gain converts, but to give a comprehensive exposition of the teachings of Christian Science which are so little understood and generally misunderstood. In this respect, Rushville is fortunate in having such a prominent speaker brought here and whether one is interested in the cult or no, it is an elegant opportunity to hear a clear and full story of this wonderful teaching that has attracted some of the brightest minds of the age.

Mr. Eaton has recently returned from a trip abroad where he delivered lectures in Liverpool, England, Belfast, Ireland, London, England and other points. The following from the Roachdale (England) Times was published this month in the Christian Science Sentinel:

"Last night (October 20) in the Roachdale Town Hall, a lecture on Christian Science was given by Clarence C. Eaton. The chair was occupied by R. A. Leach, Clerk to the Roachdale Board of Guardians. There was a crowded attendance, every seat in the large hall being occupied. People were present from all over the country, including London, Bristol, Bradford, Leeds, Liverpool, Bolton, Blackpool, Sheffield, etc. Among those present were the following Christian Scientists, stationed at Manchester: Lady Victoria Murray (daughter of the late Earl of Dunmore), Miss Coutts-Fowle, and Maurice Sanderson (nephew of the late Colonel Sanderson). The chairman, on rising, said:

"Not being a Christian Scientist, the request made to me to preside at this meeting came with a great surprise. However, that request having been made under those circumstances, I was impressed with the fact that the Christian Scientists must be a very large-minded people, otherwise they would not have asked a person who is not a Christian Scientist to preside at this lecture. And as I like large-mindedness—unfortunately we have not sufficient of it in the world—I consented. You are not concerned to know, to ascertain how much or how little I know of Christian Science. My Christian Science friends will say I know little or nothing, or I should be a member of their persuasion. I hope I am right in my impression, however, that Christian Science stands for an exposition or a revelation of the gospel of Jesus Christ, which, if accepted, will reduce to the irreducible minimum, if not annihilate, the miseries and the sorrows of humanity. Well, living my official life, as I do daily, constantly within the sight and within the touch of miseries and sorrows,

I hope I am so much a Christian as to welcome any exposition of the gospel of Jesus Christ which, if accepted, will cause the removal of these miseries."

HORSEMAN WILL RETIRE IN MARCH

Ean Inlow of Manilla Will Sell His Stable at the Lackey
Sale.

SONS ARE NOT INTERESTED

Ean Inlow of Manilla, a well known horseman who raced at most county fairs in the State will retire from the fast horse business and will sell his stable at the Lackey sale at Cambridge City in March. Mr. Inlow has owned some of the fastest horses bred in the county, Manilla Girl, William I., Pearl T. and many others. He now has a stable of five good ones to sell at Cambridge City. For years Mr. Inlow trained horses on the track on his own farm, east of Manilla.

The retiring horseman has three sons, but none of them could ever be interested in the race horse business, consequently the mantle of the elder, who loved the "sport of kings" and the "king of sports" will have to be laid away with moth balls as the young men decline to put it about their shoulders.

A SPIRITED GAME IS ANTICIPATED

Test of This Will be Made When Gun
Club Shoots on Christmas Day.

WILL GIVE A POULTRY SHOOT

The local Gun Club has closed up shop for the winter, but will fly the white flag over the camp on Christmas day when they will hold a poultry shoot. Live poultry of all denominations, creeds, sex and politics will be awarded as prizes. The shooting will begin promptly at one o'clock. All are invited to participate and come out and shoot on their grounds and on a full stomach.

TIRED IN BODY AND SICK AT HIS HEART

Harry Grady, Age 22 Years, of Hagerstown, Maryland, Lies in the County Jail.

ATTACK OF MALARIAL FEVER

Away from home and friends, tired in body and sick at heart and physically worn out, Harry Grady, age 22 years, of Hagerstown, Maryland, lies in the county jail. Officer Pea placed him in a cell this morning out of pity for a human being, as the young man was ill. Dr. Wooden was called and pronounced it a slight attack of malarial fever and said that the patient would soon recover. Grady has traveled all over the United States.

James Modlin has purchased the butcher shop on West Second street which was formerly owned by Geo. French.

PROMINENT MAN IN PROFESSION

Is Dr. Dan Millikan of Hamilton, Ohio,
Who Will Lecture at U. P.
Church Sunday.

ON "IRREPRESSIBLE SAVAGE"

Special Music Has Been Arranged
And Every Man in This City is Urged to Attend.

The second of a series of Men's Big Meetings will be held at the United Presbyterian church in North Harrison street next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Dr. Dan Millikan of Hamilton, Ohio, will deliver his popular lecture on "The Irrepressible Savage."

Dr. Millikan is one of the head professors in the Ohio Medical college in Cincinnati and bears an enviable reputation as an instructor and lecturer.

He comes highly recommended as a thinker and a man of ability. All men are urged to attend this meeting as it will be a rare treat which no one can afford to miss. Several prominent doctors in this city are acquainted with Dr. Millikan and say that he is one of the brainiest men in the medical profession.

T. A. Craig of the United Presbyterian church will have charge of the music and has arranged a beautiful song service. There will also be special music by several local soloists and also by the double quartet, which has been recently organized for the Men's Big Meetings.

A. P. Wagoner's orchestra, a local organization which has so willingly donated its services to these meetings, will furnish the instrumental music. Too much can not be spoken in praise of this orchestra which is an entertainment within itself. The men of the city should show their appreciation of the efforts of this organization by attending the meetings. They have not only furnished their own instruments but also have used much of their valuable time in practicing so as to make the orchestra a success.

These meetings promise to be as successful if not more so than those last winter which drew such monster audiences. There is no doubt about the great good which may be accomplished by this institution. It not only promotes sociability, but also is a great help to the morals of the city. The standard set by the first meeting should be held as an example the rest of the winter and an effort should be made to make the meetings even larger.

LAMBERT DENIED NEW TRIAL IN SUIT

But May Appeal Accounting Suit to a Higher Court—Has Sixty Days.

PLAINTIFF WANTED A BIG SUM.

Louis C. Lambert, the defendant in the Hinchman-Lambert suit, heard in the circuit court this week by Special Judge Broadbudd asked for a new trial but this was denied. Sixty days was given Lambert to file a bond for appeal to a higher court.

The suit grew out of accounting as agent, and plaintiff, Mrs. Rebecca Hinchman asked for practically $10,000. Judgment was rendered in her favor for $1085.

PUBLICITY OF RACING STABLES

Rushville Men Figure Prominently in Current Issue of Horse
Journal.

NEW FIRM LAUNCHED HERE

Rich Wilson Will Devote All His
Time to "Starting Things" Hereafter.

In this week's issue of the Western Horseman, the leading fast horse journal of the west, Rushville drivers and owners occupy the center of the stage and the number teams with horse news of local interest.

Among some of the "notices present" are the following:

Harrie Jones of Rushville, Ind., at present is busying himself only to the extent of exercising his horses, but will commence active operations after the first of the year. His horses all look well and stout and able to take their work easily. The record horses in his stable are John Ward, 2:05½; Gordon Prince, 2:07¼; Ed S., 2:08¼; Platt, Jr., 2:11¼; Hazel Grattan, 2:13¼; Laura Jones, 2:13¼; Warren A., 2:14¼; Idol Rex, 2:15¼; J. B. Duke, 2:18¼, and Minnie L., 2:17¼. Among his green horses he has some very classy ones—Princess Adria, by Gordon Prince, 2:05½, a three-year-old that worked a mile the past season in 2:09¼; Markly C., a green trotter by Red Bell, that has been a mile over a half mile track in 2:14; Neal Mack, a green trotter by Gregory the Great, that has shown a mile in 2:15½; Corneo, a five-year-old, that stepped a mile in 2:16 last summer before he was fairly broken. He also has a very sweet going three-year-old trotting filly by Edgemark, 2:24¼, that he thinks will do the trick when the time comes.

Frank Lindsay of Falmouth, Ind., has joined Lon Thompson of Rushville, Ind., in the horse business at the latter place. They have opened up a training, sale and breeding stable and will buy and sell a few choice horses along with their other business. Their stable is located at 138 South Main street. Simmore, by Simmons, 2:28, dam the great brood mare, Vivette, by Thompson, and Allertell, 2:18¼, a son of Allerton, out of Ethelene (dam of George Muscovite, 2:08¼ and Allertell, 2:18¼), by Axtell, in service in Lindsay's stable at Falmouth, will both be in service at their stable. Both horses have had a splendid season this year, serving in the neighborhood of ninety mares each, and both have had an added standard performer. Simmore with this year's addition, Graymore, 2:20½, has five trotters and one pacer to his credit; Allertell has, with Caplin, 2:13¼, now six trotters and two pacers. Miss Bentley, 2:21¼, also reduced her record this year to 2:16¼. The new firm now have in their stable a two and three-year-old, both trotters, by Anderson Wilkes, out of an Arrowood mare, a five-year-old pacer by Wanamaker, out of Winona, 2:25¼; a two-year-old by Simmore, dam by Director Chief, and a three-year-old by The Patchen Boy, 2:10¼, dam by Allie Wilkes. The business of the new firm will be more particularly with the light harness horse, both gentlemen having had most of their experience along that line, and are fully equipped to give the public the best of service.

Dick Wilson of Rushville, Ind., has turned out for the fall season all of his horses, but three, keeping up The Patchen Boy, 2:10¼; Aileen Wilson, 2:02¼, and Jerry Patchen, 2:16¼. Dick will take them all up after the first of the year and commence operations in real earnest. With the Patchen Boys and several outside horses which have been booked to him for next year he will have one of the strongest racing stables out in 1909. Aileen Wilson looks strong and big, and judging from the way she finished the past season's racing, 2:00 will not stop her next year.

R. J. ("Rich") Wilson of Rushville, Ind., who in years past has raced horses from one end of the country to the other over and over again, and who for some seasons back has devoted himself to the duties of starting judge and fair and race meetings, and horse show judge at the fairs, with a degree of success with which only the truly meritorious meet, will give his entire time and attention to this special brand of work the coming season. Fortunate would be those associations which secure Mr. Wilson's services, for, besides being both a born and a made horseman, he is a gentleman, and is endowed with very special ability in his chosen profession.

Dick Wilson & Son, of Rushville, Ind., will train and race a public stable in 1909. They have a number of first class prospectives in their stables at the present time, and are in a position to accept a few more first-class horses, either trotters or pacers. It is hardly necessary to call attention to the fact that Wilson has marked such high-class horses as Aileen Wilson, 2:02¼; Bumps, 2:04¼; Casonda, 2:05¼; Courier Journal, 2:06; The Bishop, 2:06; The Patchen Boy (3), 2:10¼, and thirty-one others in better than 2:15. All of these records were winning race records.

VERDICT AGAINST THE STRAW BOARD

Carthage Company Loses Case at Greenfield—Were Fined
$100.

FOR POLLUTING BLUE RIVER

The American Board and Paper company of Carthage which has been on trial for nine days in the circuit court on the charge of maintaining a public nuisance, was on Wednesday evening found guilty by the jury and assessed a fine of $100, says the Greenfield Star. The case which has been vigorously contested at every step in the proceedings since the grand jury indictment was returned and during the trial the counsel for the defense exerted every effort to clear their client of the charge.

The argument in the case was concluded on Wednesday evening and Special Judge Sample charged the jury. The jury was out about one hour and returned the verdict as above. The fine carries with it the payment of costs in the case which are probably very heavy.

SNAKE IN HUNTING BAG

Rushville Party Fared Fairly Well
at Metamora.

A hunting party, composed of Rev. W. H. Clark, Stewart Beale, Robert Tompkins and Lon Stewart, returned last night from a two days' hunt near Metamora. They killed sixteen birds, four rabbits and one snake.

CALLED PEACEFUL DOVE.

The Shelbyville News says: Dove Meredith, the Rushville stenographer with the angelic and peace-symbol name, had her shopping bag replenished with $5000 by a Lebanon jury on Wednesday as indemnification for injuries received while alighting from an Indianapolis street car.

GREAT FEAST AT WHITECAPHOME

Or Rather at the Home Where Accused Whitecapper Lived in Posey.

ARLINGTON BAND ENGAGED

Judge, Jury, Attorneys for the Defense and Court Stenographer Invited.

The McFatrighes of Posey township are anticipating a big day on Christmas. It will be remembered that several members of the family figured prominently in the whitecapping cases recently tried in the Rush circuit court. They were highly elated over the verdict and at once they planned a big celebration and love feast.

Written invitations have been extended to all who figured in the trial, including the members of the jury, the attorneys for the defense, the bailiff, court stenographer, judge and janitors of the court house. The invitation says vehicles will meet the eight and ten o'clock cars at Arlington to convey all to the McFatrighes home, and the Arlington band has been engaged to play for the occasion. It will surely be a unique affair.

But how about "Poor John" Tribbey, just down the road? To show the true Christmas and Christian spirit they should invite John, eat the bread of peace with him and pull the wish bone of a turkey to see who was in the wrong. It might be well to further suggest to have the "first grave digger" go into the back yard, dig a deep hole and there all gather around while the principals bury the hatchet, so deep it will never be found again—and live happy ever afterwards.

N. B.—It is understood that Mr. and Mrs. John Tribbey are living together in their humble cot in Posey township.

RALLY WAS A BIG SUCCESS

Held at the Main Street Christian Church Yesterday.

The foreign missionary rally held at the Main Street Christian church yesterday was a success in every particular. The afternoon session was attended by a large crowd and a good number of people were in attendance at the evening session despite the fact that the weather was rather disagreeable. The motion pictures and stereopticon views were especially interesting as well as instructive.

Fair tonight and Saturday. Colder tonight.

The local high school basket ball team will play the Carthage five this evening in the Graham school gymnasium.

Special Judge Broadbudd, who heard the argument in the mandamus proceedings brought by the promoters of the paving of Main street under the Three Mile Law, will return tomorrow and report his finding in the case.

—Mrs. Will Havens will accompany her niece, who has been visiting her back to her home in New York.

—Mrs. Frank Reynolds will go to Chicago with her mother, Mrs. Harry T. Carr, for a two weeks' visit.

—T. M. Starr of Straughns is the guest of Mrs. Anna Cox in North Morgan street.

Don't Let the Child Choke to Death
While Waiting for the Doctor.

Croup should have prompt treatment. The life of many a dear one has been sacrificed because the right remedy was not at hand.

Pay close attention to the child who is feverish, thirsty, and occasionally coughs dryly. This is the first stage of croup, and treatment should be given.

Hyomei, the miraculous, antiseptic dry air treatment, will cure croup in either the first or second stages. Easily inhaled, even when the breathing is irregular, it reaches more promptly than any other remedy and terribly inflamed membrane of the windpipe. Its soothing balsams act immediately, the inflammation is allayed, and the swelling reduced.

"Not long ago our little boy, Walter, awoke in the night with a bad attack of croup, so that he experienced great difficulty in breathing.

We allowed him to inhale Hyomei, and he immediately began to breathe easier, and in half an hour was fast asleep. Our children, being subject to croup, we feel safe with Hyomei in the house, and I am glad to speak a good word for a remedy that will rob croup of its terrors."—Rev. Geo. Sisson, Pastor of M. E. church, South Londonberry, Vt.

Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) is the quickest acting and most sensible remedy ever discovered for all diseases of the nose, throat, and lungs. It is guaranteed by F. B. Johnson & Co. to cure catarrh, coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis and croup, or money back. A complete outfit, including a neat hard rubber pocket inhaler, cost only $1.00. An extra bottle of Hyomei, if afterwards needed, cost but 50 cents.

RURAL LITERARY SOCIETIES OPEN

Custom of a Quarter Century Ago is Being Revived With Much Profit.

THE OUTLOOK IS PROMISING

For Many Debating and Literary Societies—Falmouth Joins the Work.

During the winter months in the last two or three years literary societies have sprung up and flourished in nearly every rural community in this county. Interest in them has been widespread and strong, and has evidently increased from season to season. During the last few weeks re-organization of societies has taken place at Falmouth in this county and Harrisburg, Nulltown and Contentment in Fayette county, and will soon take place in several other school neighborhoods. Older citizens who a few years ago were often heard to lament the lessening interest in literary societies, now admit that they are received with a general enthusiasm which is about equal to that accorded them twenty-five years ago.

Whatever the cause of this returning interest may be, it is looked upon as a wholesome thing. The programs which are given at these meetings may not be of high artistic merit, but they have a place in the children's education which could not be otherwise filled. Moreover they are sources of real enjoyment to the audiences that gather and every meeting offers opportunities for the exercise of nearly every phase of literary talent, both among the school children and older people.

The re-opening of the various societies this season has, in every case, been done at the instance of practically the whole immediate community, and prospects are bright for their successful continuance during the winter months.

AMUSEMENTS

The Grand offers a very strong film tonight, three subjects, "The Chauffeur's Dream," in which there are magical effects, comical incidents, unusual episodes, and wonderful scenes, follow each other in rapid succession from beginning to end of this remarkable subject. Laughter, marvels, fun and mystery in every inch of film. The other two subjects are "The Price of a Dinner" and "Miraculous Flowers." And the song, "The Little Red School House on the Hill."

"A Texas Ranger," the latest and best of Western plays will be the attraction at the Grand Tuesday night, December 22, and from all respects, the theater going people have a rare treat in store for them. The company is guaranteed to be the same that played at Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo, Indianapolis and every large city in the country, and will bring the production complete to this city. The cast has been selected with the utmost care for their respective parts, and the scenic effects are of a more elaborate nature than is usually carried by a travelling company.

Another fine program was presented to good crowds at the Vaudet last night. Tonight there will be a complete change, presenting a big laughing subject in "the talking pictures," something different from anything presented yet. The first reel consists of a historical subject entitled "The Discoverers, or the Founding of New France, Canada." Miss Gregg will sing "Roll on the Rollaway."

Will Supply Wants of Needy Families

Will Receive Donations in Any Form And Give Them to Worthy People.

PROVIDE CHRISTMAS CHEER

The Salvation army of this city is promoting a worthy cause. It is their intention to receive donations in any form from the citizens of this community and then give them out to the needy families. Many a home will be brightened during the happy Christmas time and many a stocking will be found full to the brim on Christmas morn that might have been empty had it not been for the untiring energy of this band of people.

Capt. John Knapp of the local post 441 West First street, phone 1576, has the following plea to make:

In accordance with our annual custom of providing Christmas cheer for the poor of our city, we are planning this year to furnish dinners, which will be sent in well-filled baskets to the homes of needy families.

Our friends assured by our long and successful experience in handling these undertakings, have nobly assisted us in the past, in generous responses to our appeals for this special fund. Although you may have been called upon to assist other efforts during the year, we believe you will not fail us at this special time; when we so much desire to bring cheer and Christmas gladness into the homes of sorrow and want. Donations may be sent either in cash, or provisions, to the above address.

If after paying all Christmas expenses there should be any balance left it will be used for the furtherance of our work in this city.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

FIND MASTODON'S TEETH.

(Shelbyville Liberal.)

A remarkable, but not unheard of discovery was made Monday afternoon by Curtis Graham and a party of friends. While engaged in digging a deep ditch on the farm of Mrs. Sylvia Graham, six miles north of this city, they came upon a portion of the skeleton of a mastodon, a giant animal of pre-historic age. The big bone which they describe as being larger around than a man's body, is evidently the jawbone of the huge animal for they extracted from it three smaller bone-like substances that have been pronounced by men in this city familiar with such subjects as mastodon teeth. One of the molars is ten inches in length. Mr. Graham was in this city Tuesday afternoon exhibiting his curios and left one of them with Dr. J. N. Lucas of North Harrison street.

Mastodon skeletons are found in all parts of the temperate zone in both hemispheres, but are seldom in a good state of preservation. The giant animal is supposed to have been somewhat like an elephant, but much larger.

A LIVE SCARE CROW.

(Carthage Citizen.)

Wm. Pauley, living on one of the Leisure farms shot at a large brown chicken hawk, breaking one of its wings. The hawk was then captured. Mr. Pauley brought it to town and gave it to W. H. Sharer & Son, who placed it in their show window where it attracted much attention Saturday. The hawk was given to Benton Henley, who turned it loose in his barn hoping it will drive away pigeons which are entirely too numerous to be appreciated.

Here's Where the Fun Comes In

We all have our troubles, even the business man, the farmer, the traveling man, the professional man, the newspaper man and the laboring man comes in for his share, but the United States Express agent in this city has more than his part, so he thinks. It is trouble, trouble, all day and all night for him. He has actually threatened to take his own life if he cannot find another location for his office. His present environment is so irksome to his usually congenial nature, being surrounded most of the time by ghosts from the Holden undertaking establishment or a ladies aid society giving a bazaar or something of the sort.

To relate all of the various incidents which have helped to drag him down into the dumps would take several columns, so only a few of the most amusing ones will be told.

One day when he first began his work in the services of the United States Express company, a young farmer drove up in front of his office and shouted for him to come out. The congenial agent immediately dropped all of his work—and he was busy, too—and rushed out to the man in the buggy.

"Isn't Ben Riley's grocery store still located here, I want to sell him some eggs." As a matter of fact Riley's store had been moved several months before but the agent in question knew nothing of it and could not enlighten his young friend. This worried the conscientious young man all the day and was only a beginning for his many troubles which were to follow.

The very next day after the incident related above, a woman stopped in his office and asked if he had doll go-carts to sell. He quietly replied that he had nothing of the sort wondering all the time what there was about his place which made it look like a furniture store.

Several weeks elapsed and the young man had finally begun to believe his hoodoo had left him when lo and behold, his unfortunate star mounted in the heavens again. A drunken man staggered by, turned back and entered his office. He rambled up to the counter, which resembled a bar very much, and leered "give me a highball." He soon put the bum out to brood over his troubles. He did not mind his office being taken for a furniture store, or a blacksmith shop—but a saloon—that was the limit. And then to add more to his unhappiness some woman—unknown—called up and asked if he could send a small express package by mail so as to make the expense lighter. He did not take time to answer, but just hung up the receiver.

Again there was a rather long lapse before anything happened and he began to shake hands with himself on his fortunate escape from any troublesome mishaps. He had no more than had this happy thought when the telephone bell rang vigorously. One of the ladies of the aid society wanted to hold an exchange in his office the next Saturday and he finally consented to her pleading. But he could see the handwriting on the wall, it was no use. On the eventful Saturday some one called in and asked if that was the United States express office. "No," replied the lady who answered the phone, "this is the exchange given by the ladies of the church." The next day several called up and asked him why they could never get his office, that they had wanted to send packages away but had finally become desperate and had shipped them by freight. On the same day one of the ladies answered the phone and said that Lacy's bakery had a case of bread for the U. S. express wagon. The wagon called at the Lacy bakery and also at every other one in town, but still no one wanted to ship any bread. The wagon had returned and they all had despaired of ever finding the right party when the telephone rang several times. The agent rushed to the phone resolved that no one should answer it from that time forth. And this is what he heard: "Say I called up there once and told you to come around and get a case of beer at the Exchange bar for the train, but it is too late now."

It's no use, he was born under an unlucky star.

There are now in the schools of New York city nearly 26,000 more pupils than there were one year ago.

Our Xmas Edition

On next Tuesday evening the Daily Republican will publish a Christmas edition, but not the cheap, flimsy lithograph kind with pictures of Santa Claus going down a chimney, the little girl with an empty stocking and all that sort of thing. The material in story form and special features of local interest will be secured, regardless of expense and will be printed in two or more colors. Contributions from local people if up to the standard, will be gladly received at this office, if same reaches up before Saturday night.

Our Xmas edition is not an advertising scheme, but if merchants desire space in it, we must have their order by Saturday night. It is the intention of the publisher to make the edition an attractive one and one that will be suitable to send to relatives and friends living away from here. Among some of the features will be a story by Tom J. Geraghty, "The First Christmas in Rushville," (the Xmas of 1822); a letter from Eugene Miller, who is traveling abroad; what local people will do towards making this Christmas a notable and happy one, for never before was the spirit of true charity manifested as it is this year, and many other things of interest and pertinent to the Yuletide spirit.

TRUSTEES ATTEND THE CONVENTION

Which Was Held Yesterday and today—Proposed Change of Law to be Made Eligible

TO SUCCEED THEMSELVES

A number of township trustees of this county attended the State convention held in Indianapolis yesterday and today.

It was arranged last year to hold this convention in December, so that the newly elected trustees might attend and have the benefit of the experience of those who leave office. It was expected also that the convention would take some action toward providing an amendment to the present law governing the election of township trustees. At present they are ineligible to succeed themselves. The law states they can not hold office but once in eight years. It is proposed to change the law, making re-election possible.

A young man took his real future best girl to one of our churches Sunday night. Stopping at the end of one of the back pews he turned to the usher and said: "I guess we can squeeze in here." Chapter 12

DIFFERENCES of opinion between himself and Neergard concerning the ethics of good taste involved in forcing the Slowitha club matter, Gerald's decreasing attention to business and increasing intimacy with the Fane-Ruthven coterie began to make Selwyn very uncomfortable. The boy's close relations with Neergard worried him most of all and, though Neergard finally agreed to drop the Slowitha matter as a fixed policy in which Selwyn had been expected to participate at some indefinite date, the arrangement seemed only to cement the man's confidential companionship with Gerald.

This added to Selwyn's restlessness, and one day in early spring he had a long conference with Gerald—a most unsatisfactory one. Gerald for the first time remained reticent, and when Selwyn, presuming on the cordial understanding between them, pressed him a little the boy turned sullen, and Selwyn let the matter drop very quickly.

But neither tact nor caution seemed to serve now. Gerald, more and more engrossed in occult social affairs of which he made no mention to Selwyn, was still amiable and friendly, even at times cordial and lovable, but he was no longer frank or even communicative.

The Cough Syrup that rids the system of a cold by acting as a cathartic on the bowels is tive, and Selwyn, fearing to arouse him again to sullenness or perhaps even to suspicious defiance, forbore to press him beyond the most tentative advances toward the regaining of his confidence.

Gerald and Neergard left the office together frequently now. They often lunched uptown. Whether they were in each other's company evenings Selwyn did not know, for Gerald no longer volunteered information as to his whereabouts or doings. And all this hurt Selwyn and alarmed him, too, for he was slowly coming to the conclusion that he did not like Neergard, that he would never sign articles of partnership with him and that even his formal association with the company was too close a relation for his own peace of mind. But on Gerald's account he stayed on. He did not like to leave the boy alone for his sister's sake as well as for his own.

Matters drifted that way through early spring. He actually grew to dislike both Neergard and the business of Neergard & Co., for no particular reason perhaps, but in general, though he did not yet care to ask himself to be more precise in his unuttered criticisms. But Neergard broke his word to him.

And one morning before he left his rooms at Mrs. Greeve's lodgings to go downtown Percy Draymore called him up on the telephone, and, as that overfed young man's usual rising hour was notoriously nearer noon than 8 o'clock, it surprised Selwyn to be asked to remain in his rooms for a little while until Draymore and one or two friends could call on him personally concerning a matter of importance.

First there was Percy Draymore, overgrown for a gentleman, fat, good humored and fashionable—one of the famous Draymore family noted solely for their money and their tight grip on it; then came Saxon Orchil, the famous banker and promoter, small, urbane, dark, with that rich, almost oriental, coloring which he may have inherited from his Cordova ancestors, who found it necessary to dehumanize their names when Rome offered them the choice, with immediate eternity as alternative.

Then came a fox faced young man, Phoenix Mottly, elegant arbiter of all pertaining to polo and the hunt—slim legged, hatchet faced and more presentable in the saddle than out of it. He was followed by Bradley Harmon, with his washed out coloring of a consumptive Swede and his corn colored beard, and, looming in the rear like an amiable brontosaurus, George Fane, whose swaying neck carried his head as a camel carries his, nodding as he walks.

"We heard last night," said Draymore, "how that fellow—how Neergard had been tampering with our farmers—what underhand tricks he has been playing us, and I frankly admit to you that we're a worried lot of near sports. That's what this dismal matinee signifies, and we've come to ask you what it all really means."

"Why did you not call on Mr. Neergard?" asked Selwyn coolly. Yet he was taken completely by surprise, for he did not know that Neergard had gone ahead and secured options on his own responsibility, which practically amounted to a violation of the truce between them. "I know nothing about it. I did not know that Mr. Neergard had acquired control of the property. I don't know what he means to do with it. And, gentlemen, may I ask why you feel at liberty to come to me instead of going to Mr. Neergard?"

"A desire to deal with one of our own kind, I suppose," returned Draymore bluntly. "And, for that matter," he said, turning to the others, "we might have known that Captain Selwyn could have had no hand in and no knowledge of such an underbred and dirty"—

Harmon plucked him by the sleeve, but Draymore shook him off, his little piggy eyes sparkling.

"What do I care?" he sneered, losing his temper. "We're in the clutches of a vulgar, skintint Dutchman, and he'll wring us dry whether or not we curse him out. Didn't I tell you that Philip Selwyn had nothing to do with it? If he had, and I was wrong, our journey here might as well have been made to Neergard's office, for any man who will do such a filthy thing—"

"One moment, Draymore," cut in Selwyn, and his voice rang unpleasantly. "If you are simply complaining because you have been outwitted, go ahead, but if you think there has been any really dirty business in this matter go to Mr. Neergard. Otherwise, being his associate, I shall not only decline to listen, but also, ask you to leave my apartments."

"Captain Selwyn is perfectly right," observed Orchil coolly. "Do you think, Draymore, that it is very good taste in you to come into a man's place and begin slanging and cursing a member of his firm for crooked work?"

"Besides," added Mottly, "it's not crooked; it's only contemptible." And to Selwyn, who had been restlessly facing first one, then another: "We came—it was the idea of several among us—to put the matter up to you, which was rather foolish, because you couldn't have engineered the thing and remained what we know you to be. So"—

"Wait!" said Selwyn brusquely. "I do not admit for one moment that there is anything dishonorable in this deal, nor do I accept your right to question it from that standpoint, because I personally have not chosen to engage in matters of this—ah—description, is no reason for condemning the deal or its method."

"Every reason!" said Orchil, laughing cordially. "Every reason, Captain Selwyn. Thank you; we know now exactly where we stand. It was very good of you to let us come, and I'm sorry some of us had the bad taste to show any temper."

"He means me," added Draymore, offering his hand; "goodby, Captain Selwyn. I dare say we are up against it hard."

Lesson XII.—Fourth Quarter,
For Dec. 20, 1908.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Luke ii, 8-20.
Memory Verses, 8-10—Golden Text,
Luke ii, 11—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1908, by American Press Association.]

From the time when Adam and Eve listened to the devil rather than to God and by one man sin entered into the world and death by sin (Rom. v, 12) the god of this world, the devil, has been blinding people's eyes to the truth and to the love of God, always setting before them some way which he insists is better than God's way; hence all the sin of which we read in all the Bible story and in the whole history of the race. The alternate lesson for today tells how even Solomon, so beloved and blessed of God, was turned away from Him by the women of other nations, and by them and their idols his heart was turned away from the Lord God of Israel (I Kings xi, 4-13; Neh. xiii, 26).

In all the history of the world there has never been but one who always resisted the devil and listened only to God, and of Him we learn as to the beginning of His humanity in our lesson today. He was with the Father before the world was. By Him and for Him were all things created. He appeared in human form to Abraham, to Joshua, to Gideon, to Manoah and his wife and to others. He was typified in every sacrifice appointed by God from the shedding of blood in Eden by His own hand to provide redemption clothing for Adam and Eve all the way down to Golgotha. He was set apart before the foundation of the world, but was manifested in the fullness of time, made of a woman, made under the law, to redeem them that were under the law (I Pet. i, 20; Gal. iv, 4, 5).

Moses and all the prophets wrote of Him as the only Redeemer, the Messiah of Israel, the one to rule the world in peace and righteousness (Luke xxiv, 27, 44). From the days of Malachi, who said, "The Lord whom ye seek shall suddenly come to His temple" and "Behold I will send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the Lord" (Mal. i, 1; iv, 5), there had been no further message from heaven for over 300 years. But one day while a certain priest was officiating before God in the temple an angel appeared to him and said that through him and his wife the herald of the Messiah should come, who would go before Him in the spirit and power of Elijah.

Six months later the same angel, Gabriel, was sent from heaven to a humble home in Nazareth to a virgin called Mary with the most wonderful message ever given to a woman in the whole history of this world (Luke i, 30-33). In simple, childlike faith Mary listened to the wonderful message and said, "Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word." It had been foretold that the Messiah should be born of a virgin and thus the word of God be literally fulfilled that He should be the "seed of woman;" also that He should be born in Bethlehem of Judea (Isa. vii, 14; Gen. iii, 15; Mic. v, 2). In our lesson we see God, who watches over His word to perform it (Jer. i, 12, R. V.), bringing all things to pass just as He had said. A decree from the world ruler, who knew not God, caused Mary to be in Bethlehem at this particular time, and while there she brought forth her firstborn son in a lowly place among cattle and used a manger as His cradle (verses 7, 12, 16), for there was no room for them in the inn. He came from the glory of heaven, His Father's home, the holy angels and the great company of the redeemed, and there was no welcome for Him on earth except from His mother and Joseph, and those few shepherds, and Simeon and Anna, and those wise men from the east, and a few others. But all heaven was interested. An angel came with his glory of heavenly light and told these shepherds of the great event; then a multitude of angels praised God in these words: "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men" (verse 14). Then the angels returned to heaven, and the shepherds went and found it just as the angels had said.

To this day how little interest is taken on the earth in heavenly things, the god of this world leading his followers to cry, "Let us alone," but God has always held a few like the shepherds and the others, whose hearts are with Him by His grace. Notwithstanding all hindrances, the child who was born of Mary shall yet reign over the house of Jacob and over all the earth in righteousness, and His church shall reign with Him. Note the angels' "fear not" (i, 13, 30; ii, 10) to the Lord's people and study the words from Gen. xv, 1, to Rev. i, 17, and if a child of God appropriate them, for God does not give a spirit of fear (II Tim. i, 7). The good tidings of great joy are for all people, but what a large proportion of the human race have passed away and are passing away without hearing the good news. "Is it nothing to you?"

In all His life He glorified God, and by His finished work He gives peace to all who receive Him. The shepherds did not question the angel's message, but said, "Let us go and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known to us." Having heard and believed and seen, they made it known abroad. Mary kept and pondered in her heart all these things.

SOCIETY WOMEN

Some spend Hundreds of Dollars a Year on Their Hair.

Leaders of society in New York know the social value of attractive hair, and according to a metropolitan newspaper every society woman spends a great deal of money to keep her hair beautiful and resplendent.

These women employ highly paid hair dressers and specialists, and so long as they have the money to gratify their desire for beautiful hair, none should complain.

But what about the thousands upon thousands of women just as intelligent, just as refined, and just as lovable as any society woman, who have not the means for expert hair dressers and specialists?

What are they to do? Are they not entitled to beautiful, lustrous and luxuriant hair?

Most assuredly they are, they are, and thousands of them give thanks daily to the great scientist and dramatologist who put within their reach, at a small price, the marvelous and quick acting hair tonic known all over America as Parisian Sage.

F. B. Johnson & Co. will sell you a large bottle of Parisian Sage for 50 cents. It will make any woman's hair grow thicker, more beautiful and more lustrous in a few weeks.

It cures dandruff by killing the microbes, and it is guaranteed by F. B. Johnson & Co. to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks, or money back. Get a bottle while it's on your mind. It is a most pleasant hair dressing, and is not sticky or greasy.

For sale by F. B. Johnson & Co. or direct, all express charges prepaid, from Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Nobody Guessed the Words in the Missing Word Contest Last Evening.

MRS. LAKIN MUST BE ILL

Well, we sneaked another over on the guileless guessers last night. Nobody found the missing words, at least they did not report. The words omitted last night were "left" in Wolcott's ad; "remedy" in Hargrove & Mullin's ad and "large" in Bodine's ad.

As no one won in the contest last night, two dollars go to the winner for tonight's contest. Just two more issues of the contest advertising, tonight and Saturday night. Get on the wire and claim one of the final rewards. Let us hear from you.
